H.E.B. Food Stores will close two of its grocery stores on Alameda Street. The closing of the stores in Cullen Mall and Town & Country Shopping Center near Nov. 1 coincides with the opening of HEB's new superstore at 4320 S. Alameda. Bill Horvath, H.E.B. vice president for real estate, said H.E.B. officials are working with Cullen Mall operators to help locate another tenant for the 22,300 square feet which H.E.B. will vacate. H.E.B.'s Town & Country store covers 19,700 square feet. The new superstore will provide 60,000 square feet of shopping space and will be the largest in the Corpus Christi-based food company's chain of 150 stores.
